

Earn Your High School Diploma with a GED

The GED credential is a high school equivalency diploma.

The General Educational Development Test consists of four subject tests.

The four subjects are language arts, math, social studies, and science.

Once you have passed them, you earn a high school equivalency credential.

Having a GED can open up possibilities for a higher salary, additional education, and professional advancement.

98% of colleges accept applicants with a GED.

Many GED graduates can make more than $8,500 more every year than those without a GED or diploma.
