

New Tax Deduction for Seniors

Starting with 2025 taxes (filed in 2026):

- Age 65+ may get an extra $6,000 deduction.
- Married couples may get $12,000 if both are 65+.
- Full amount if income is $75,000 or less (single) or $150,000 or less (married filing jointly).
- The deduction phases out around $175,000 (single) and $250,000 (married).
- You must file a federal tax return to receive it.

Higher Standard Deduction

- Seniors already receive a larger standard deduction at age 65, which lowers taxable income.

Credit for the Elderly or Disabled

- Low-income seniors may qualify.
- This credit directly reduces the amount of tax owed.

Property Tax Relief

- Many cities or counties offer property tax exemptions or reductions for seniors. Check with your local county office.

What to Do

- File a federal tax return.
- Make sure your age is entered correctly.
